Account balances are determined using the previous calendar month end average balance and the account must be open on the last business day of the month to be included.

⁶ Direct Deposit must be made to the Custom Rewards Checking or Prestige Checking in order to count as a service for that account.

⁷ Business Checking will count as a Qualifying Service for the owners of a Sole Proprietor, Limited Liability Corporation, or a Partnership.

Important Account Information

Safety of your money against loss is an important consideration. All our deposit accounts are FDIC insured.

The Federal Truth in Savings Act requires specific disclosures regarding APY (Annual Percentage Yield), interest payment frequency, advance notice of rate changes, balance calculation methods and relevant fees.

This information is specific to the type of account you open and will be supplied in addition to this document.

For more detailed information on any of the accounts listed in this document, please contact us.

Overdraft Privilege Policy

An overdraft occurs when you do not have enough money in your account to cover a transaction, but we pay it anyway. Transactions that may overdraw your account include checks, in-person withdrawals, ATM withdrawals, or other electronic means. We are not obligated to pay any item presented for payment if your account does not contain sufficient funds.

We may approve your overdraft items within your current Overdraft Privilege limit as a non-contractual courtesy. Whether your overdrafts will be paid is discretionary and we reserve the right not to pay. For example, we typically do not pay overdrafts if your account is not in good standing, or you are not making regular deposits, or you have too many overdrafts. Your overdrawn balance will include any fees charged against the account.

When advancing money as part of your Overdraft Privilege or pay or return an item that causes an overdraft, we use your ledger balance. Ledger balance only includes transactions that have posted to your account. The ledger balance does not include outstanding transactions that have not yet cleared or electronic transactions that have been authorized but which are still pending.

We will pay overdraft items for checks, in-person withdrawals, and ACH transactions. For ATM and one time debit card transactions, you must affirmatively consent to allow your account to become overdrawn. The option to opt-in to this service is provided to you at account opening. You may change your decision at any time. Any electronic balance provided to you during a balance inquiry will not reflect your Overdraft Privilege limit.

We generally pay electronic withdrawals and ACH withdrawals first based on electronic transaction type, in order from lowest to highest dollar amount. We then pay checks in check number order, per the bank's policy. The payment order of items may create multiple overdraft items during a single banking day. If this occurs, you will be charged an Overdraft Fee of $35.00 for each overdraft item paid up to a maximum fee of $140 per day. Normally, we will not approve an overdraft for you in excess of the predetermined amount assigned to your account type. Please note that the amount of the overdraft plus the bank's Overdraft Fee of $35.00 per item or $140 daily maximum fee will be deducted from the Overdraft Privilege limit.

Any item that creates an overdraft balance of $5.00 or less in a checking account will not be assessed a fee.

We may refuse to pay an overdraft item at any time even though we may have previously paid overdrafts for you. A Returned Item Fee of $35.00 per item each time an item is presented will be charged. You will be notified of any overdraft items paid or returned that you may have, however, we have no obligation to notify you before we pay or return any item.

If we overdraw your account, you agree to repay us immediately, without notice or demand from us. We may use deposits you or others make to your account to pay any overdrafts, fees and other amounts you owe us prior to posting other debits, which may result in additional overdraft item fees. If there is an overdraft on an account with more than one owner on the signature card, each owner and agent, if applicable, shall be jointly and severally liable for all overdrafts inclusive of fees.

If you decide to not participate in the Overdraft Privilege program, any overdrawn balance you may have on your account is your responsibility to cover. If you would like to have this service removed, please contact your personal banker or our Customer Support at (608) 798-2400 or toll free at (855) 256-7328.

Overdraft Privilege is not to be viewed as an encouragement to overdraw your account. In order to avoid fees, manage your account responsibly and make sure that your account always contains enough funds to cover all of your items and associated fees.

Keeping track of your balance is important. You can review your balance in a number of ways including reviewing your balance online, accessing your account information by phone, visiting one of our branches or receiving balance alerts via text. In addition, reconcile your account regularly.

LIMITATIONS: State Bank of Cross Plains reserves the right to limit participation and discontinue this service without prior notice.
